

IMPRESSIONS: 94,226

DEPARTURES

Hate Cooking? Head To These Luxury Hotels for the Ultimate Thanksgiving Feast

Spend more time enjoying the holiday rather than slaving away in the kitchen.

By Jordi Lippe-McGraw on October 23, 2020

<https://www.departures.com/travel/hotels/luxury-hotels-intimate-thanksgiving-meal>

Departures is published by Meredith Corp. and owned by American Express. While American Express Card Member benefits are highlighted in this publication, including through the links indicated below, the content of this article was independently written by the editorial staff at Meredith. Other Departures content paid for by American Express is explicitly marked as such.

It's no surprise that the holidays are going to look a little different this year. Big get-togethers will be replaced by more intimate meals, which might leave some yearning for a bit more seasonal cheer. Plus, after the stressful year it's already been, who wants to spend hours cooking in the kitchen? Well, several luxury hotels across the country are here to help by offering up their own Thanksgiving feasts. Here are 10 of the best ones.

Cafe Boulud at Blantyre in Lenox, Massachusetts

Why cook Thanksgiving dinner when Daniel Boulud can do it for you? The American Express Global Dining Collection French chef's pop-up at the Berkshires' luxury property was due to end this month, but it has been extended through to February 2021. So, that means he's crafted a Thanksgiving menu complete with pumpkin soup, mushroom, and sage risotto, Berkshire turkey, sweet potatoes with candied pecans, and apple tart tatin. It's a first-of-its-kind venture for the region, utilizing fresh and local ingredients to French classics with a regional twist. And it's all within a Tudor-style mansion and estate built in 1902, set amidst 110 acres of lush lawns and woodlands.

BULLFROG + BAUM